OUTSTANDING SENIORS

Departing from the traditional senior popularity contest, the 1948 graduating class adopted a new method of selecting the most representative senior students. The Senior Ballot Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Helen McConnell and J. Arthur Nelson, eliminated some of the "best's and most's" from contests of previous years and replaced them with "best's and most's" in particular departments.

During the week of April 26-30, primaries were held in homerooms in which seniors voted for boys and girls to fill the seven popular titles. At the same time the school departments held their primaries. Seniors placing among the top three in more than one category chose one title to run in the final election. The finals were held the following week with the results shown below.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society, born at Omaha Central High School, has grown into an international organization recognizing prominent students. It stresses not only scholarship, but also citizenship and participation in school activities as qualifications for membership.

Joseph G. Masters, former Central principal, drew up plans for a high school honor society in 1918. Three years later his project was accepted by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Since then the organization has covered the United States and spread to Hawaii, Canal Zone, and American Schools in China and South America.

A committee of teachers, headed by Principal J. Arthur Nelson, again this spring selected the members from the upper quartile of the senior class. The group, consisting of 61 pupils or about 15 per cent of the class, was chosen from those who best fitted the conditions of scholarship, character, and citizenship.

Fifteen Central students took the National Honor Society examination. Of these, John W. Smith and Alvin Burstein ranked among the top 160 of all secondary school pupils in the country. Doris Hanson and Rosamonde Johnson made the upper quartile and ten others earned a place in the top half of all those who took the general aptitude examination.

THE CHRISTMAS BALL

Elizabeth Ann Clark was crowned Miss Central XIV, Queen of the Christmas Ball, on the evening of December 12. Wearing the traditional purple cape and carrying a bouquet of white calla lilies, carnations, and snap dragons, she received her crown and sceptre from Miss Emily Reynolds, Queen of Ak-Sar-Ben.

The queen and her ladies-in-waiting, Elaine Mendelson and Marilyn Bergh, were chosen by the Central girls attending the ball. Marching as princesses were Muriel Beebe, Sarah Jane Black, Polly Robison, Marion Saunders, Marilyn Vingers, and Helen Wencel. They were elected by a vote of all the girls in the school.

Other girls participating in the coronation were senior girls as countesses, class officers as duchesses, freshman girls as pages, and Student Council girls.

Preceding the coronation, a masquerade dance was held in the gym with music provided by a juke box. A floor show furnished the entertainment followed by a grand march during which judges decided upon the best costumes. The Student Council boys, in chef's caps and white uniforms, worked behind the coke and hot dog stand.

To carry out the Christmas spirit of giving, girls attending the party were asked to bring gifts for the Children's Memorial Hospital. Over seven hundred gifts were presented to Mrs. Richard Young, president-elect of the Memorial Hospital Board, and Mrs. Story Harding of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

The fourteenth all girls' party was presented by the Student Council, and Mrs. Irene Jensen, Miss Josephine Frisbie, Miss Elizabeth Kiewit, and Miss Ruth Pilling, girls' counselors.

PEP SQUAD

The Central High Pep Squad, organized during the football season and continued through the basketball season, helped the cheer leaders give our team moral support. It also provided the cheering section at school assemblies. Sponsors were Student Council members, assisted by Mrs. Irene Jensen, Mrs. Augusta Turpin, and Miss Marion Treat.
